Subject: In the silence we shine

Good day all. In our natural state we are vessels of God's light. Much like a light bulb our soul-body radiates God's light, unless that light is diminished. Our soul-body must be plugged in correctly, and set to the right frequency, or else we experience a diminishing of that light. And the prince of darkness, who operates through our egos and has his grip on this world of desire, encourages us to worship that darkness, and not the light from which we came. Everywhere we look in this world of desire is a fruit of his making from which we pluck ~ and through the spirit of craving we ignorantly worship that darkness. It is through the spirit of craving that we 'speak' the loudest, 'relate' the loudest, and 'act' the loudest in a world that supplies all our cravings. And our ego misses no opportunity to be "center stage" to advocate for that darkness. "Give me this! You are wrong! I am right! This is hopeless!" and on and on its tirade goes. It even convinces us it is fighting for a cause, and for the cause of God, in its battle with God, the Spirit of Peace. For God does not fight with the devil ~ but shines His light to diminish all darkness. And this is where the saints of this world shine their light as beacons of light for the Father of light in a world that is filled with darkness. They do this through their silence, as they pray to God, reflect upon God, and still the mind to block out all darkness ~ for without the voice being trained to speak only for God, the ego steps in, and the prince of darkness behind it. Amen. And may you all be blessed in our Father's love and grace.
